WORKSHOP

Shaping the Future of Learning:
Improving Performance &
Program Design

More than 25 years have passed since the inception of our accredited training programs. While the initial focus was on implementing the systematic approach to training, over the past few years strong focus has been given to both human performance and training to improve performance. Now we're adding a new generation of workers to our workforce.

We're proud to have, for the MANTG Instructor Workshop, the theme of “Improving Performance & Program Design”

Join us in June 2010 in historic Gettysburg, PA to meld yesterday's basics with today's need to measure performance improvement, and design our training for the next generation of nuclear workers.
